

PROVOCATEUR

BERLIN

Culinary Escapism.

A touch of chinoiserie garnished with the finest ingredients of the vie Parisienne.

A friend, partner and a chef, The Duc Ngo (among others 893 Ryotei, moriki) captivates his guests with Franco-Chinese delicacies that are second to none. In the Golden Phoenix, he blends French finesse with the rich and bewitching aromas of China. „Always balanced, salty, sweet, bitter and sour. That’s the refinement of traditional Chinese cuisine.“

In the Provocateur Restaurant, Paris of the 1920s meets today’s modern Berlin. Altogether, with its burlesque style, ruby-red velvet fabrics, black marble tables and an open kitchen, the restaurant is hard to resist.
